Poor Tired Finance
Ford's Easy Answer
Accessible Solitude
The Spartans Meet It
By Arthur Brisbane

POOR WALL STREET broke.
Another 4,000,000-share day yesterday. Harvard graduates even plan a five-day week, "their work is too hard."

How finance would howl if men working in steel mills, subways, etc., demanded a five-day week.

The Senate will ask Henry Ford how he can pay coal miners more than experienced mine owners pay, wages higher than the national demand. Ford could answer, "I have brains and a heart."

Lindbergh, seeking rest from overcoming praise and to be let alone, simply flies away. Science conveys the blessing of solitude.

First the bicycle, next the automobile, now it's the flying machine that has made solitude accessible.

Only recently the Observers Romano, mouthpieces of the Vatican, spoke hopefully of an understanding between Mussolini's ruling party and the Pope.

A sudden change puzzles Romans. Mussolini, in rather plain words, threatens to suppress Catholic organizations for the education of youth, saying the government must control and prepare the minds of future citizens.

The Spartans did that, taking children from their parents.
Sparta did not last.

It is not the present Pope's intention evidently to accept Mussolini as a former Pope accepted Riensi. A few years will show what chance one powerful man has against skillful Vatican diplomacy, built up through centuries.

One hundred Congressmen indorse Mr. Hoover's candidacy.
Fully half the 441 Republican representative will join the Hoover committee of 100.

Senators are less friendly. So are some "big men" that occasionally buy Senate seats for deserving individuals. Mr. Hoover probably realizes that these big men with influence in the Senate will have a good deal to say in the Republican convention. Ask George Harvey.

Mr. Smith, iron manufacturer, of Milwaukee, is building 107,000 tons of electrically welded pipe to connect Southern oil wells with Northern markets.

President Kincaid, of Standard Oil of California, has two ridiculous plants turning out 15,000 tons of pipe. The oil business has grown since the day when its best customer was the kerosene oil lamp.

Henry Ford also cherishes the steel business by placing heavy taxes on Mahoning Valley steel mills for strips and sheets. He is a heavy buyer also of hard and cold finished steel. Evidently his "production line" is regaining speed.

When you talk about honesty you are a bore. When you talk about money you are a brainy business man.

F. L. Hoffman, Prudential Insurance Co. statistician says an end of the death penalty, with quick trials and life imprisonment, would discourage murder, at present increasing all over the United States.

The boys of Yale, 144 to 114, decide that prohibition has done Yale College more harm than good.

If the young gentlemen would vote unanimously to drink no more bootleg liquor, prohibition couldn't do Yale any harm.

Sweet are the uses of adversity, useful in an approaching election.

By 79 to 0 the Senate passes the Mississippi Flood Control bill, involving $225,000,000. Republicans want to stay in. Democrats want to get in.

"White Australia" is the popular rallying cry. An American negro, just landed, has been reported by the House of Representatives of New South Wales and negroes are to be barred, as well as Chinese and other Asiatians.

One hundred houses are damaged, 15 killed and 100 injured in a series of earthquakes between Vesuvius and Trieste. Airplanes are used for emergency relief.

WORK CALLED A 'COWARD' BY CARAWAY

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Sen. Work was assailed as a "coward" in the Senate today by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, for what Caraway described as treatment accorded Mr. Work recently to anti-Clyde F. Bates of the staff of Gov. Moody of Arkansas.

"It will waive any senatorial privileges," Caraway declared, "I have said, if the secretary of the Interior wants to answer me anywhere or any time."

Senator Caraway said that Col. Bates, a wounded veteran, War veteran, had come to Washington representing Governor Moody and the Chamber of Commerce of Texas in behalf of a national park for Arkansas.

He said Bates brought with him a letter to Secretary Hoover from Hoover's campaign manager in Texas, and that after a visit with Bates he was sent to the office of Secretary Work, who spoke to him "very sharply."

"He did not offer this man whom I have heard many wounds, a seat," the Arkansasian said. "He told Col. Bates he knew what he had come for and that he knew all about Texas and Arkansas he cared to know. He called Col. Bates a liar and ordered him out of his room. Bates was never permitted to say what his business was."

"The transaction was disgraceful and cowardly," he said, "to Col. Bates in his office which he would not have said in the corridor outside or anywhere else."

"He took the protection of his office to tell this way against a war veteran whose body carries silver plates in place of ribs and who came up here representing the Governor of a sovereign state."

"In the name of the American people, I protest. No one but a coward would do what Secretary Work did."

McCarthy told the police he was forced to one side by another truck coming out of a driveway, and that way his car hit the parked machine.

HAYS WILL SEE BLACKMER IN FRANCE

The French record had to be bettered by at least one hour for the Americans to establish the new mark.

A few minutes after the record was officially broken a plane, bearing a printed sign flew alongside the huge Stinson-Detroiter.

The sign read: "Congratulations from the American people for bringing world's record back to the United States."

The plane landed a mile from the spot where they took off and made south to the place they left Wednesday morning.

They had only five gallons of gas left in their tanks when they descended. They started in Wednesday with 500 gallons.

In bringing back to America the record, French and American hands since Stinson and Halsey landed captured it in 1924, 19 minutes, 45 seconds at Etampes, N. Y., December 31, 1924.

On the 29th, Drouhin and Landry, at Etampes, France, in July, 1924, set a mark of 31 hrs., 19 mins., 10 sec. The mark of 46 hours, 11 minutes, 20 seconds was set by Drouhin and Landry at Etampes, in August, 1924.

NATHANIEL'S PILOT.

The record was lifted often from German, French and American hands since Stinson and Halsey landed captured it in 1924, 19 minutes, 45 seconds at Etampes, N. Y., December 31, 1924.

On the 29th, Drouhin and Landry, at Etampes, France, in July, 1924, set a mark of 31 hrs., 19 mins., 10 sec. The mark of 46 hours, 11 minutes, 20 seconds was set by Drouhin and Landry at Etampes, in August, 1924.

RECORD MADE LAST YEAR

This was broken April 12-14, 1927, by Clarence D. Chamberlin and Bert Acosta in the Bellanca monoplane Columbia, when they set a mark of 51 hours, 11 minutes and 55 seconds, at Roosevelt Field, L. I.

This incidentally broke the American record of 48 hours, 4 minutes, 24 seconds made at Dayton, O., in April, 1925, by Kelley and Macready.

On August 25, Johann Ristic and Corneliuz Edzard at Dessau, Germany, stayed up 42 hours, 22 minutes and 31 seconds, covering 2145.97 miles, the mark surpassed today by Stinson and Halsey.

In January, 1923, Chamberlin and Roger Q. Williams exceeded by 45 minutes the American record but did not set a new one because a mark must be bettered by one hour.

WILSON'S WIFE MAY GO FREE

In a text issued of the patrol wagon. She requested that she be permitted to travel in a taxi at her own expense and the request was granted.

The police expect to question several society women of Washington who are said to have known Wilson. In the meantime it is shamed again to take Mrs. Wilson to the hospital where it is hoped a possible reconciliation with her husband may be brought about, in which event the charges of felonious assault may be dropped.

Mrs. Wilson has not been told her husband is not seriously wounded. One bullet entered his back and another his arm.

Mr. Wilson, who is 48, was a friend of the late President Harding and of President Coolidge. He is an attorney and a member of the Republican national committee. The Wilsons are well known in Washington, Baltimore and New York.

Questioned by Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph Pascolillo, Mrs. Wilson said: "I'm very sorry, now."

"I don't know why I did it. It's been good to me always. He gave me plenty of money for trips to Europe and my hunting in Africa."

Mrs. Wilson insisted, however, that she had no knowledge of the "thousands" coming to her from the estate of her father, "Mr. Frank, timber merchant of St. Vernon, N. Y. Her husband has been managing his estate, she said.

A snatch thief, carrying an umbrella, made away with a $450 diamond ring from the jewelry store of S. Ullrich, 1113 Washington street, only to be captured two blocks away by Thomas Ince of Vincent St., Cambridge.

Ince retrieved the ring, and then apparently convinced he had done his full duty, released the thief and returned the stolen property to the store.

According to the police, the robber, described as being about 40 years, 5 feet 10 inches tall, 175 pounds, dark complexion, wearing a light cap and blue suit, and carrying an umbrella, entered the store about 1:30.

He asked to be shown rings, and one valued at $450 was displayed. The man asked the ring and fled, pursued by Ince and "Tommy" Ince gave chase, coloring the thief a short distance from the store, and securing the ring. The thief then disappeared.

Finally, the day came when he wanted to finish the Albany Business College.

"If I don't finish the business college, I'll never show my face in Cortland again," young Church told his father.

"If you do finish," said his father, "I'll walk all the way to Albany to get your diploma."

"You're on," said young Church. And now the elder Church will start his walk from Sunday.

SCHOOLGIRL IS MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING

The mysterious disappearance of Ruth E. Stanley, 16, attractive and popular senior at Brown Junior high school, was reported today to the Malden police.
She was last seen by a boy friend in Malden so, after school yesterday afternoon. She did not return home at night and today her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanley of 1197 Eastern ave., notified the police.
After school she was driven to the square by the boy, who is a pupil in the same school. She told him she was on her way to keep an appointment at a dentist's, but when he said he would wait, she asked him not to, explaining that she might be kept an hour or more.
When the schoolboy learned today of her disappearance he went to her mother and told of the incident.
Although she had a slight nervous trouble about a year ago, her mother said she had completely recovered, and the police have no clue to her whereabouts.

GERMAN GLIDE FLIERS TEACH HUB STUDENTS

"Virtually every hilltop in New England an airport" is the aim of a group of German glider fliers visiting Boston today for the furtherance of motorless flying through conferences with aeronautical societies of Tech, Harvard and Northeastern.
In the group are C. K. Froehlich, motorless flight expert of the North German Lloyd; Maj. Verne Chapelle, vice-president of the Motorless Aviation Club, and Robert Anderson Pope, president.
"Glider flying is safer inasmuch as it will reduce the number of accidents where accidents more often occur—at takeoffs and landings," Froehlich explained today before a conference with the Aeronautical Engineering Society of Tech delegation at the North German Lloyd office, State st.
"The plane is started from the hill by a group of men on either side of the plane. They haul on a rope and run down the hill for a short way, the plane rising into space much in the manner of a small boy's kite.
"Blowing air currents from the action of the wind against the hill keeps the plane up and has been known to raise a plane to a height of 2000 feet. When that current is spent, the flier may glide into another air current and so on indefinitely.
"The descent is made much more safely than the power plane that has the disadvantage of its heavy motor and engine's speed, the glider waiting to earth slow and easy."
Major Chapelle is to give a lecture on the subject tonight at Tech.
The glider plane, he explained, can be made for as low as $60.
President Pope stated that the altitude of 2000 miles has been attained by the glider, altitudes as high as 215 feet and endurance of 14 hours and 25 minutes was gained by Ferdinand Schulte of Germany.

FALL 'FORCED' TEAPOT ON SINCLAIR

El Paso, Tex., March 30 (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair accepted the lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve with reluctance, after once rejecting it. Associates said Albert B. Fall would testify in giving his deposition to be used in the oil magnate's trial in Washington next week on charges of conspiring to defraud the government.
"Here is your lease, Mr. Secretary, I am done with it," Fall was expected to quote Sinclair as saying.
The disagreement occurred on April 7, 1922, in Fall's office in Washington and was the first time that Sinclair had personally come into the negotiations for the lease, according to Fall's narrative.
The preliminary arrangements for the lease, the story continued, were carried on by the late J. W. Zevely and Sinclair did not take any part in it until the day the lease was signed.
During the discussion of the terms of the lease Fall said he told Sinclair the government would have to have larger royalties than provided and Sinclair replied that as the lease stood he would lose money on the deal.
Fall insisted. Finally Sinclair accepted the lease which later involved him in criminal charges in which the government alleged he paid Fall $225,000 after the then secretary of the interior granted him the lease.

Boys or men, to start the plane, run with rubber ropes attached to the cockpit down the side of a hill until the machine is in the air. The run is generally not over 100 yards. The ropes are then released by the pilot and glider slides gently off on the breeze. Safer than motor plane, say enthusiasts.

Aim of German Gliders' Visit

Take-offs and landings were explained by C. K. Froehlich, motorless flight expert of the North German Lloyd, at the State st. offices today. The boys standing in the photo are members of the Aeronautical Association of Tech. "The type of plane is substituted after the soaring bird, rather than the flap wing," Froehlich said.

HUB BABIES GET HEALTH UNDER VIOLET RAYS

Life is brighter for many East Boston children since they began taking Alpine lamp treatments for health. Every day at the East Boston health unit, under the watchful eye of Miss Margaret Coyte, they receive ultra violet rays many times stronger than sun light and the results are highly gratifying to physicians and parents.
"Experience has taught us that babies cannot stand the quartz light treatment for as long a period as teenagers without burning," Miss Coyte explained while she carefully impaled a baby wriggling with delight as the warm rays poured over its little underdeveloped body.
"For instance, this child has been having these treatments since she was five months old and they were increased from twice a week to daily that November, yet she is so fat that 12 minutes on her back and 15 on her front are all she could stand comfortably."
The light is placed 36 inches above the patient.
The light is used in the treatment of rickets, malnutrition, gland trouble, affected limbs and bronchial tubes, eczema and other ailments, which followed by rubbing the penetrating the skin but does not burn.

Love Notes Produced in Forsyth Divorce and seeking custody of their children, Mildred, 11, and Raymond, 13. Mrs. Forsyth introduced the guide to Mrs. Webb as "my friend, Mr. Lasky," the maiden woman testified.

Q—How many times did you see Mr. Lasky while Mrs. Forsyth lived there? A—A good deal.

Q—What room did she entertain him in? A—In the kitchenette.

Q—Did Lasky bring anything with him? A—He brought groceries and provisions usually.

Q—How often did it happen he stayed there until twelve, and two or two-thirds in the morning? A—Nearly twice or three times a week.

Q—I call your attention to the fact, when you were upstairs and they came in. I waited and looked through the register and then on a couch in each other's arms. That was in the afternoon after Mildred had gone to school.

Q—That "DAM OLD MAM." Both children were in court, the girl with her mother and the boy sitting beside his father. Mrs. Forsyth, an attractive blonde, dressed in blue and wore a "choker" string of amber beads about her neck.

Q—How did she happen to leave your house? A—After Mr. Lasky did she wasn't able to pay the rent. I had to have somebody who could pay the rent.

Q—When did you talk about Fred Lasky to her? A—I told her one or the tenants complained that she was kept awake and Mrs. Forsyth called her a "dam old mam."

Mrs. Webb testified to an occasion when Forsyth arrived at the house and she welcomed him to the house and she welcomed him to the house and she welcomed him to the house.

Q—You know she was always a perfect lady, don't you? A—Not of the time.

Further testimony was given by Mrs. Webb, D. Crawford, a detective and Forsyth about a midnight trip to Oquonut, Me., when Lasky and Mrs. Forsyth, in the latter's car, were overhauled by the Newtons.

Forsyth, taking the stand, related the domestic incident which resulted in the loss of one of his eyes.

Q—When was your eye injured? A—February 5, 1926.

Q—Tell the court slowly in your own way what happened. A—It was the morning, about eight or seven on a Friday. I was going to work.

Q—You were on your way to work on Friday. I went down to breakfast at eight. I had the car brought to my house and I had it on the machine. My wife called down to me.

Letters filled with endearing terms alleged to have been sent by Fred Lasky, former half-breed Indian guide, to Mrs. Annie E. Forsyth of Newton constitute grounds for divorce, according to Boardman E. Forsyth.

Following are parts of the five introduced in Middlesex Probate Court:

May 24, 1924, Robinson, Me. Hello, Anne—Received an awful loving letter this afternoon, and I don't blame you for wanting to cry. I felt bad myself. . . . You say he was coming to Boston the last of the week. If he comes when I am here I am afraid he is going to be out of luck in seeing you unless he stays longer than I do. How about it, Anne? . . . Will I bring my good clothes with me or had I better not. You see, I don't know how long he is going to stop, and if he doesn't stop only a short while, it doesn't seem necessary, would it?

Believe me, he had better stop long enough so that you and I can love each other. Or I will just get my job. Don't that business? . . . Be a good girl, for somebody loves Anne Forsyth to Page 4, Columns you to death. By-by, Buck and lots of love and kisses. Always yours, Well Hott! Received your letter this afternoon and was very pleased to get it after your not getting mine from me for two days. . . . How did you get the mail the Sunday when he got the mail the Sunday when he was home, don't I forget all about the holiday, but I guess you will take a way to get it all right. I told you thought that the February was full of bull about the truck and now I know it.

I went down this morning and he said, "Well Fred, I called him up last night, and he said he wouldn't be able to go until the 14th." Well, I said I got a letter from him saying he was home, but he had been sick. I said I got a letter from him saying he was home, but he had been sick. I said I got a letter from him saying he was home, but he had been sick.

LANDLAD SAYS SHE SPIED ON MRS. FORSYTH

and that she didn't know but what she would take him out of school and come down early so I guess I will take the staff down in my car for them.

See but that was good news, hon, if you coming down so early. Didn't I tell you it was best for Ray to come down there, that it would be better for him.

AND LITTLE MILDRED.

What did Ray say when you told him that he was coming to Five Island? Or have you told him yet?

And little Mildred. I can see her now, Ray, just that dress you made her. I think I picture her a little smarter than what she really is.

Remember that little white dress she had on at the beach. That was the one I think she looked the cutest in. Bring that one with you, hon. If it is too small, make it over. I want that one.

And also bring your own little yellow dress. Ray, hon—what you write in your letters, you don't expect me to come to Boston, asking me if there is anything you would like to get for me. It was awful sweet, hon. No, hon, it has been put off long enough. I am coming up there if I have to wait.

SMACK AND MORE SMACK

Tell Mrs. Perry she won't see George and his wife for a while yet. He has got his car apart and it is all over the island.

Give me one more, hon. Just one, SMACK. My, my, hon. Lots and lots of love and kisses, from yours only. Give me just one more, hon. One more, hon. SMACK. Make your letter just a little longer, hon. (On side of letter "Watch Out".)

Well, hon, I suppose you are thinking lots of things till you read this letter. The same way with myself. Hon, till I heard from you. You begin with, Hon, I never got that card which you said in your letter you wrote the day before, until today. I got both the card and the letter and they were both stamped seven. I had a letter all wrote and ready to mail. . . So there was the letter never got off.

WHEN HE WORRIED.

When afternoon came I went over after the mail and about rough your letter to mail. Well, I asked for the mail first. No mail. The card was supposed to have been at this asking, you know. No there wasn't any mail. Well, I sat down and thought. All I could think of was that there was something wrong. I thought that he got old of 'em and it seemed to point to something bad.

So I said, well, I will wait until tomorrow night and find out for sure before I send any mail up there. So tonight I got the letter and card and was very much relieved. And also very sorry to have you waiting all this time for a letter, hon. But

Smacks and Kisses Fill Forsyth Love Notes

Fred Forsyth, half-breed guide, whose letters to Mrs. Anne E. Forsyth, of Newton, are the basis of a divorce suit brought by Boardman Forsyth, signed himself "Watch Out" in several notes introduced in court as evidence.

One letter contains the line: "Give me one more, hon, just one more SMACK. Lots and lots of love and kisses from yours only."

In another the writer asked: "What did the fishman tell you, hon, that makes you want to stay up there this summer? If he keeps you from coming down here I will rub his nose in his fish."

Please, don't be cross, hon, I only thought I was doing right.

What did the fishman tell you, hon, that makes you want to stay up there this summer? . . . If he keeps you from coming down here I will rub his nose in his fish.

Well, hon, please watch out and please excuse me for my big mistake. I will figure better next time. Lots and lots of love and kisses. I am as always, your hon. B.Y.B.

RUICE WIDENS BREACH WITH VATICAN

FEAR FLOOD IN CONNECTICUT VALLEY

Rome, March 30 (INS)—Just as it began to appear that the tension between the Vatican and Premier Mussolini was easing, "Il Duce" took vigorous official action today which, it is believed, will still further the breach between the Church and the State.

Adopting a decree introduced by Premier Mussolini the Cabinet council today ordered the disbandment within a month of all organizations for the training of Italian youth except the Fascist "Balilla." This order means such church organizations as the Catholic Boy Scouts, which is maintained by the Vatican, must be dissolved.

Mussolini acted with characteristic energy to back up his threat that the Fascist organization might assume a monopoly in the training of Italian youth.

As the education and training of boys and young men was the chief Fascist ideal in the way of settlement of the "Roman question" it was believed the development today put a solution of this 14-year-old dispute far into the future.

The latest tension between the Vatican and the Government grew out of certain remarks of Pope Pius XI before the Council of Cardinals in Rome when he criticized policies of the Mussolini government. This was followed by a sharp retort from "Il Duce."

It is believed the pontiff will take exception of this latest move by Mussolini and will make public criticism.

Mussolini and the other chiefs of the Fascist movement have adopted the policy of making Vatican part of the education of youth.

FRANCE IN J. S. HULL WILL NOT TELL OF OTHER CHARGES

Paris, March 29 (AP)—A considerable part of the war was understood today to have been proposed in the latest French note from Foreign Minister Briand to Ambassador Clandet at Washington.

The Briand note was believed to have suggested inclusion of all European nations susceptible of being involved in war instead of limiting it to the great powers as Secretary Kellogg suggested.

The new proposal was understood to suggest all were to be named with out restriction, but to provide all allegations would be released if one was in violation of the agreement.

London, March 29 (AP)—Disarmament was to be the first Great Britain today to a nation urging the government to take the initiative for adoption of the same treaty of disarmament as proposed on Germany by the Versailles treaty.

Presented by Prime Minister Baldwin, the document, bearing 100,000 signatures, proposed the Versailles standard be made the basis for international disarmament.

MANY HURT IN OHIO STORM

Cleveland, March 29 (INS)—Many persons were injured and trees were leveled to a disastrous storm in northern Ohio today.

The American Telegraph and Telephone Company reported 2000 poles down in this district.

At Findlay, O., no transportation was available in or out of town for hours after the storm.

Newspaper plants were shut down. Many wrecked autos were strewn about the streets. Blacked river was rising and a flood was feared.

EX-PASTOR HOLMES ON TRIAL AT FALL RIVER

Fall River, March 29 (Trib)—Trial of Rev. William Holmes, Methodist Episcopal minister, was opened today shortly after 10 a. m. before leaders of the New England Southern Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

It was the second hearing given the minister, who was stripped of all official vestments after being found guilty of improper conduct with Antoinette Fortin, former teacher at Fall River.

Yesterday the trial was adjourned, Bishop Anderson hastening to Boston to consult Dist. Atty. William J. Foley.

Seek $500,000 in Loot at N. Y. C. R. R. Mens' Homes

New York, March 29 (AP)—It is a series of raids on the homes of men employed in the New York Central Railroad shops at Harborside, N. Y., railroad detectives today sought to recover more than $500,000 worth of materials stolen from the shops during the past 25 years.

In the vicinity of Cold Spring Creek, detectives ripped a truck load of brass pipe and fixtures used by the railroad.

Hearst Plane Held Up

Dallas, Tex., March 29 (INS)—Flight of the New York American Stinson-Detroler coast-to-coast monoplane is being held up here pending the arrival of several parts by air mail from the factory in Paterson, N. J.

Rep. Martin Lomasney was responsible for the peculiarity, the West End member having raised a point of order when Speaker Hull announced that the Coyne restoration would be filed—meaning that acceptance was automatic.

The Speaker assented to Lomasney's point that the Coyne restoration should be acted upon by the House itself. When Speaker Hull brought up the matter today, however, his voice carried a hint of implication.

He declared the point of order should have been raised before the orders of the day had been taken up.

Lomasney said he had no desire to embarrass anybody, but that when Representative Essex S. Abbott of Haverhill resigned to become assistant United States attorney, the resignation was formally accepted by the House.

He urged the House to stand on its dignity and not to let the point of order that there is one of the oldest rules of its kind.

"But I question these chamber proceedings in handling questions of improper conduct of members," he asserted. "This is a serious question and the House has a duty to perform. If these things are done and they are done where there is the dignity of the Legislature."

Rep. Victor Joseph of Lowell, the Republican "whip," favored the motion for reconsideration so as to settle the "status of the affair."

FINALLY ACCEPTED.

A house moment came when Representative Joseph Finnegan (D., Boston), asked if the acceptance of the resignation would preclude any further action. The chair ruled that after acceptance Coyne would no longer be a member of the House.

Representative John L. Rock of Chelsea questioned whether the House had the right to accept such a resignation, saying that he had similar cases several years ago the Governor ruled the point.

The Speaker ruled the House had done so on several occasions.

The question of accepting the resignation was then put and it was accepted.

Just before the session was to end Representative Twiss asked unanimous consent to make a statement.

He was given the floor and said: "According to today's papers, there are one or two more cases under investigation by the Speaker. I believe this is a serious charge and that, if true, there should be a statement by the Speaker to clear the matter."

When Speaker Hull failed to respond to the challenge, a motion to adjourn prevailed.

ODDS 1 TO 4 ON GERMAN HOP

New York, March 29 (INS)—Odds of one to four that the German fleet will be successful in flying from the Atlantic ocean, from east to west, in their monoplane "Zeppelins," were quoted today by the Wall Street firm of W. L. Darnell & Company.

About $500,000 have been bet by enthusiastic admirers of the German fleet. The last single wager was $100,000 against $400.

Earlier in the week Lloyd in London and refused to wager on the Endeavor.

Baldern Alderson, March 29 (AP)—Baron von Huenfeld issued an "official communique" to the Irish and foreign press today stating that adverse weather had not diminished his determination to fly the Atlantic, but that the start will be delayed until conditions are better for the flight.

RESCUE WOMAN AT BLAZE IN SOUTH END

After a taxi-driver failed in an heroic attempt at rescue, firemen today saved the life of Mrs. Mary Prosser, 66, by carrying her down a ladder from the second floor of the house at 113 Dartmouth st., South End.

Mrs. Prosser was the sole occupant of the house, which caught fire from a defective furnace, according to fire department officials. The flames quickly spread through the structure and caused damage estimated at $1000.

The fire was discovered by Matthew Riley of 113 1/2 Park ave., taxi operator, who saw smoke issuing from the windows. He left his cab and dashed up to the front door, but got no response when he rang the bell. He tried the door, but it was locked.

He ran to a box and sounded an alarm and then raced back to the house and kicked in the door. He then ran from door to door inside, pounding and shouting to awaken the many occupants he believed were there, for the house was until recently a lodging house.

Riley got no response to his shouts and was finally driven out by smoke. Meanwhile, firemen of Ladder 13 had found an extension ladder to the second floor.

"Woman" Billiardist Champ Kills Self, Revealed as Man

Sauquoit, Okla., March 28 (AP)—Francis Anderson, 60, of Los Angeles, at one time heralded as the world's "champion woman billiard player," in death has disclosed the secret that "she" in reality was a man.

Francis Anderson ended "her" life by slashing both wrists, throat, head and breast with safety razor blades.

The man was declared to have been known for more than 30 years in his profession as a "woman" billiardist.

And door windows and an entering life found Mrs. Prosser partially overcome by smoke and trapped in her room by the smoke that filled the corridors. She was quickly hauled down the ladder and cared for by neighbors.

2 DORCHESTER ROBBER SUSPECTS ARE HELD

Arnold Richart and Joseph Keyes, the latter on parole from Concord Reformatory, were captured after a chase in Dorchester today and held on charges of breaking and entering the store of Lee at 127 1/2 Dorchester ave. Patrolmen Cahill and Henchy surprised the pair in the store, it is alleged, and when they fled gave chase. A larceny charge was also placed against Richart, in whose pockets, police claim, stolen clothing was found. Both were held for the grand jury following arraignment in Dorchester court.

ROBINSON RAPS CHURCHES AS NAVY FOES

Pittsburgh, March 30 (AP)—Denouncing the navy building program as having been "forced upon the United States through England's refusal to agree to disarmament, except on her own terms," Asst. Sec. of the Navy Theodore Douglas Gibson, assailed "certain newspapers and magazines," churches and the Women's Christian Temperance Union in an address before the Allegheny County Assessors' Association here.

Robinson asserted "the churches got together with the W. C. T. U. and decided we could not afford to spend four billion over 11 years while certain newspapers and magazines stressed that disarmament ruined the navy."

"We are building 16 cruisers," he said, in answer to the first. Then taking the politicians to task, he said: "It is 100 per cent untrue. The only bureaucracy existing is that forced upon us by Congress through its having passed so many laws."

HENRY FORD AND WIFE SAIL FOR EUROPE TODAY

New York, March 30 (INS)—Henry Ford, accompanied by Mrs. Ford, arrived in New York today on the first leg of a trip to Europe. They are expected to sail tonight. It was learned, on the White Star liner Majestic.

It will be the motor magnate's first journey abroad since his vain peace junket in 1914, when he departed for France with the expressed determination to "end the war before Christmas."

The Fords arrived here on their private car attached to the Wolverine. A cordon of police protected the billiardaire from intrusion and he and Mrs. Ford were driven to the Ritz Carlton hotel.

MOVIE STARS' BROADCAST IS BIG SUCCESS

Two great modern industries were wedded when the Dodge Brothers coast-to-coast radio hookup sent the voices of the stars of the film world into the far corners of the country. The voices of Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, Norma Talmadge, Dolores Del Rio, John Barrymore and other stars were heard, as well as Paul Whiteman's famous band.

The New York studio of WJZ and the Hollywood bungalow of Douglas Fairbanks on the Pacific coast were the two sources of the broadcast, stretching out from those centers in vast radio network all over the continent and reaching audiences in the WJZ-WJZ hookup in Boston's Hotel Bialler.

FAIRBANKS TALKS
 It is a sphere not ordinarily their métier that the celebrities struck upon the best possible material for the broadcast and made the most of it. True, Douglas Fairbanks, officiating as master-of-ceremonies, launched his own contribution to the program with a characteristic pat, putting into conversation the style for which he is internationally known on the screen.

Norma Talmadge, while the listeners admired her grace and her ineffable beauty, spoke proudly of Hollywood as the center of fashion, explaining how the clothes worn by movie stars actually set the fashion in the four crossed circles the world over.

Charlie Chaplin, introduced not merely as a comedian, but as one of the greatest geniuses of all time, and speaking in a slightly silly English accent, told a group of funny stories—some of them on himself.

BARRYMORE BIG FEATURE

Paul Whiteman, more fortunately circumstanced, was content to let his applause rest on the work of his famous orchestra under his baton performing the newest jazz music. D. W. Griffith, first of the great planner movie directors, told of the humanizing and civilizing effect of moving pictures. From the purely entertainment standpoint the recreation by John Barrymore of a small part of the Hamlet role, the work on the legitimate stage upon which the largest portion of his great fame as an artist is based, was to many probably the highest point in the broadcast.

It was at least the first time that even so small a part of Hamlet as the vehement and passion-invested soliloquy of the second act in the play has been heard on the air by the "greatest living Hamlet," and so far as is known it was the first time that Barrymore, if not the rest of the great company with him in the Fairbanks bungalow parlor, appeared on the air.

'GIRLS, PROFIT BY MY PLIGHT!' BEGS DORIS

Kington, Ont., March 29 (228)—"Just say that I was game. That I hope other girls everywhere will profit by my mistakes and realize there isn't a thing in this high 3121 business. Home, love, religion, and simple amusements—these are the only ways to happiness."

That was the statement of Doris McDonald, the finger-convict, at the studied gates of Port Arthur prison changed behind her lock-up here, in a cell, she spent the next 12 years of her life.

The Mr. Vernon, N. Y., "playgirl" who threw down everything that she could for her reputation with George McDonald, was turned over to the penitentiary matron to be doctored, eloped, given prison garb and assigned to her cell. McDonald was hanged recently in Valparaiso for the murder of Adolphe Boucard, a taxiab driver. Doris was given an 11th-hour reprieve by the Canadian authorities. Her mental and physical condition is still serious, and she is under the care of the prison doctor.

New York, March 30 (AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd, one of the most decorated men in America, has figured out "this here business" and decided the cheers of the throngs who greeted him when he returned from his polar and transatlantic flights were not really for him at all. In his book, "Skyward," published today, he relates how for nine years he worked quietly to establish in the art of flying, then, returning from his flight to the North Pole, was perished to find himself the center of a national bull-baiting.

SOPRANOS GIVE JOINT RECITAL AT STEINERT

By MOSES SMITH
If all recitalists were as intelligent and tasteful in making up their programs as were Julia Warren and Williamina Andra Johnson, two sopranos who gave a joint concert in Steinert Hall last evening, concert-goers would experience a tremendous increase in musical enjoyment.
There was a list of 19 songs not one of which was cheap or slow. Most of them, indeed, were the works of established masters, while all of them were of genuine musical interest and worth. Nor was the program, therefore, "arty" or "highbrow." The large audience, which applauded the singers plentifully, seemed to take as much joy as the performers themselves, who were intent simply on producing good music and nothing but good music, and taking and giving pleasure thereby. The concert proved tremendously well received, and last good music can still be "held" of course the song cycle in this picture was held along by the "soprano." Both Mrs. Warren and Miss Johnson possess pleasant voices, and they sang in the most of song and good interpretation. Another note of great power, Mrs. Warren's mezzo-soprano of song, rang long the more colorful. She also seems to have had more experience in interpreting.
And yet Miss Johnson surprised in such manner "discovery" toward the end of the program, by the beauty of her lower tones. The rendition of this number gave one listener, at least, great pleasure. And, perhaps, we should add, would an even greater effect if they had been in the hands of a more sustained vocal production, so that the melody line might not be disturbed, as it was occasionally, by a slight hiccup.

HAYS HOPES TO SETTLE FOREIGN WAR ON U. S. FILM

Cherbourg, March 30 (AP)—Will Hays, "boss" of the American motion picture industry, departed from the Levantine today and expressed his confidence that a satisfactory agreement would soon be reached between foreign and American movie interests.
"France, Germany and England all seem eager to restrict the showing of American films in their countries and I'm sure to find out what it is all about," Hays said. "I am sure the apparent restriction move to blockade the entry of American films into these countries, I believe we can reach a satisfactory agreement."

NICARAGUAN REBELS IN FLIGHT; DOZEN SLAIN

Managua, Nicaragua, March 30 (AP)—Four Admiral David P. Beltrán believes the rebels are scattering. After a conference with Brigadier General R. At least a dozen rebels were believed to have been slain yesterday when airplanes operating in the vicinity of the Coco river, bombed a band of 25 and ruled them with machine guns.

FORMER OFFICE BOY TELLS OF R. R. SUCCESS

"Work, I always tried to do as well as I could, and I was expected of me and a little bit more."

That is the reason given by W. L. Oldroyd of Framingham for his rise from office boy to assistant to the vice president of the Boston & Albany railroad.

His appointment to the new position was announced today, just 28 years from the day that he began work for the railroad as an office boy.

Bruins and Rangers Play for Yank Title

The Batting Boston Bruins will be the local entry to carry on for higher hockey honors. The Tigers were eliminated by the Quebec Beavers in Providence, 2 to 0. The first game resulted in a 2 to 2 tie which gives Quebec the right to play Springfield for the title.

The New York Rangers are the American Hockey League champions. They defeated the Montreal Canadiens in the final game of the playoffs, 4 to 1.

BOMBING IN NEW RING WARFARE

Like Dorgan Explains Sankovits' One Round Knock-out of Ted Sandwina

BOSTON'S private boxing way is still going merrily forward.

SERGEANT EDDIE MACK of the Argonne Club has called up his big battles, while Admiral Tom Goodwin of the Suffolk Club has all of his matches in the arena.

Jack Conway

Like Dorgan, demon publicity artist for Ted Sandwina, who is a "right" of the Argonne Club, has tossed a few bombs into the ring war. He is much upset because a "Tom Goodwin" is holding the belt that Mike Sankovits won.

"Sankovits and Sandwina clashed at the Ridgewood Grove Sporting Club on February 12. The particular event was a one round knock-out over Ted Sandwina, who is a right hand puncher on the club before Sandwina was able to protect himself.

"It was a mighty wallop, and before he could fully recover he was caught again, and went to the floor. Two seconds later he was back on his feet, and continued fighting. He was forced to again when the referee intervened and stopped the contest with four seconds to complete the first round. The referee was justified in his behavior, but the chance was that Sandwina must have recovered in the later rounds.

"Sandwina fought Crockett on March 8 and made a fairly good showing by hammering out a clean cut victory on points. Mack was placed with him on his next fight March 12. He was scheduled to face Narko, but due to some misarrangement, standing went against Eddie Cullen, a substitute, and stopped him in eight rounds. This time Mack thought so well of him that he placed him in the feature event on April 3 against Roberto Roberti.

GOODWIN says he arranged a show for Monday night at the Arena which has been his regular night all season.

Mack says he was obliged to bill a program for Monday evening on account of his inability to secure a fight at Mechanics building for any one night next week.

Goodwin says he must have gone to pay the expenses of his show, while Mack declares he can break even with a $1000 gate.

The Suffolk A. A. show will be headed by Leroy Schauf and Benito Touchmans, rated as two of the best of the younger crop of heavyweights. They clashed at the Arena recently with "behead" winning a one round decision at the end of ten hurricane punches of boxing.

The mighty Hambro Kiley of South Boston will oppose Jack Stone of New York in the semifinal of eight rounds. Kiley is intent upon punishing his way to another match with Joe Monte.

Jack Hardy, South Boston's latest heavyweight star, will oppose Oscar O'Brien of Roxbury. Heavyweights will include Cyron Harris, Cursey Bowman will face p-nice at Red Griffin, while the much discussed Mike Sankovits will meet an opponent yet to be named.

ROBERTO ROBERTI, one of the most colorful and big young crop of heavyweights, is the big attraction at the Argonne A. A. show. He will have Ted Sandwina, a former heavyweight, as an opponent in a four round match. Roberti was accompanied here by Nando Tassi, light heavyweight champion of Italy, who is scheduled to fight in the semifinal of eight rounds.

Monahan in another bout on the Argonne Club's card, is expected to arrive here tonight. A six rounder and a four rounder both between heavyweights, were added to the card.

In the six round bout, Fred Fane will get a glimpse at another new heavyweight, who has made an impressive record in this country and Canada. Ray Peckley of Three Rivers, Canada, will clash with Al Walker, New Haven plant, who has appeared in this city in three fights.

In the four round bout, Neil Bull will meet a former heavyweight, a weight, who is expected to put a wide swath in the fluro game, will clash with Big Jim Dryer of Abol.

UTS IN 7 CLASSES

AT ST. JOE'S SHOW

Strikes will close tonight for the city amateur boxing tournament at the St. Joseph's T. A. B. to be held tomorrow night at Commercial Hall, Bowdoin st. Indications point to one of the biggest entry lists of the season with all the topnotchers of the various classes represented.

Boats in seven open classes are on the card. The boys will compete in the 112, 116, 120, 125, 135, 145 and heavyweights, and the boys in the last named division are expected to prove the feature of the meeting.

PURCHASED in LONDON REPRODUCED in AMERICA

Actual photograph of Bartley's original Barty's shoes, which we paid £5.10s ($26.50)

Actual photograph of Regal reproduction for which we charge $6.60 in all Regal Stores

Style Authority

FOR centuries, London has been recognized as the authoritative source of men's style in dress—hats, clothes and shoes. That's why we went to London—and we went to Bartley & Sons because they are recognized as one of the best bespoke bootmakers in London.

Bartley & Sons have been making shoes for more than 100 years in the same spot (493 Oxford Street, London, W.). They have actually made shoes for three successive rulers of Great Britain, not to mention the Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal Family.

We paid £5.10s ($26.50) for the original Bartley Brogue with "punched and notched" toe cap and trimmings, as Bartley describes his most popular model. The lasts are identical in both measurement and appearance, and the design is the same. It has a medium round toe with plenty of spring and swing in the last for Comfort and Style.

Bartley describes the Sole as an oak bark tanned "mildling substance," and that is what we used. The Upper Leather in Bartley's original is an Imported Calfskin tanned in Osterreich, Holland, and in the Regal reproduction we are using the same identical tannage.

Now, what's the main difference? Bartley's shoes are all made and sewn by hand. Our shoes are sewn by the same machine as practically all high-priced American shoes. In Bartley's shop only four or five men handle the shoe from the time it is cut until it is finished. In our factory about 150 different persons perform some operation on a Regal Shoe. BARTLEY AVERAGES THREE PAIRS A DAY—WE MAKE ABOUT THREE THOUSAND A DAY.

Bartley & Sons' letter reproduced above will show you that I ordered 36 pairs of this original shoe. This is because I wanted to put one of Bartley's original shoes in 72 Regal Stores and show the original and a Regal reproduction side by side. I thought the best way to convince you of the value of the Regal reproduction was to show you the Bartley original.

I think you will agree that we picked out a good one to copy, and I feel sure you'll also be convinced that we made a mighty good copy. It's only one of many reproductions that we are showing, but I know it's ONE you'll want to see.

'Twixt Tee and Cup

By BILL HENNING

After the North and South Open at Pinehurst this week, the professional golfers will trek to their summer courses and most of them will be on the job next Monday. Aside from Walter Hagen, who did not compete, the prize money was distributed about as usual. Johnny Farrell came in for his usual share as did Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour and Bobby Cruickshank.

From the golf he has been playing in the South this winter, it will be well for the tournament playing professionals to keep an eye on Henry Clotel. The popular little Italian from the Metropolitan district is expected to finish in the "money" at Pinehurst.

Arrangements are under way for an exhibition match between Charlie MacAndrews of Laconia, N. H., and Miss Helen Coffey, the New Hampshire champion, against Tom Jones, professional at the Rhode Island Country Club, and Miss Ullena Coffey, the former national champion. This exhibition is to be played at the Laconia Country Club.

Although not as well known as some of the other local professionals, Bill Eysing, who has succeeded Charlie Nicoll at the Framingham Country Club, will have little trouble "selling himself" to the members. Eysing was at the Country Club for years and, at Rhode Island, he has never participated in any of the local tournaments, is a very good golfer.

Oscar Flather reports that the Nashua Country Club will be at the top of the New England amateur championships this season. Nashua has always been an extremely popular course, especially with the Greater Boston players, but many changes have been made there and it will be a real championship layout for the New England.

Cap Hayworth, one of the real veterans of this section, is going to return to his old home at the Alpine at North Woodstock, N. H., this season. "Cap" has been the professional at Wayland for three seasons, and although heavily handicapped, he has been a very popular player, but many changes have been made there and it will be a real championship layout for the New England.

If Mr. and Mrs. Sprague Cleghorn could get off executives they will not be able to return to their home in Montreal for at least a month after the close of the hockey season. The Cleghorns are booked to meet Mr. and Mrs. Francis Guinness at Woodland and then they will be back in Montreal.

ALBERTA HORSES IN SECOND

Tipperary Tim Wins Grand National; Billy Barton Wins Second Money

first American bred horse to win the historic chase by an unbroken fall at the very last fence.

He was remounted by his Irish jockey, Cullinan, and finished the course capturing second place. The rest of the race, jockeys and horses, were scattered all over the finishing ground.

The Baltimore horse got away smoothly and took the course like a star running for Tim, Burgrigist, earned by B. L. Behr of Chicago, the only other American-bred horse in the race, clung to Billy until the first obstacle and then dropped back and at the second or third fence Burgrigist was out.

By the time the first round of the horses were left in the race and Billy Barton was the only American stepleasher still running. All the other 10 horses had tumbled and thrown their riders at the difficult fence and wide water jump.

The horses still in the race were Tipperary Tim, Arden, owned by Sir K. Fraser, Great Britain; W. W. Buckworth, Massachusetts, owned by Count de Jumilhac, and May King, owned by Lord John and Billy Barton.

All of the favorites, including Spry, which won the race last year, were out of the race.

Billy was leading the field as they entered the grandstand and the hundreds of Americans who had come to Antrim for the race went wild with joy.

DIFFICULT COURSE

The Antrim course is regarded as one of the most difficult in the world and is such a severe test that at a previous race, several of the horses have fallen. The distance of four miles and 184 yards is over a course covered with 30 formidable jumps and part of the course is over ploughed ground.

One of the most famous jumps in the world is a fence called the "Flemish" which is a fence of three feet high and three feet wide. On the far side is a natural bog hole and one-half feet deep, and there is a drop of six feet.

The water jump in front of the grandstand is 15 feet across. It is a common occurrence for jockeys who have been thrown to remount and finish the race.

Despite the fact that the odds stacked Billy Barton had been falling off before the race, he did nobly and only lost in Tipperary Tim's show of finishing.

It was Billy's race all the way until he tripped on the last fence.

Billy Barton's Owner

Elated With Showing

Antrim, England, March 30 (AP)—Howard Burns of Baltimore was about the happiest man that ever stepped into a paddock when he led Billy Barton into the crowd after the grand national.

Billy was bleeding at the nose where he bumped himself on his fall at the last obstacle and the crowd gave as much attention to him as to the winner, being attracted by cheering Americans who shouted:

"Good old Billy! Good old Cullinan! Good old Bruce!"

"Happy! I should say I am," Mr. Bruce said to the correspondent of the Associated Press. "It was a wonderful performance. It was exceedingly fourth luck that Billy slipped just when he had the race in his grasp—but I am satisfied."

Yes, I am very much satisfied," Billy Barton's owner said.

B. U. EXPECTS TO HAVE FAST FRESHMAN NINE

Boston University's freshman baseball team is expected to be the best that ever represented the Purple and White at the university in a long while. Coach Pank has many star high school and prep school boys trying out for the nine.

The team has not secured a definite place to practice as yet, but it is expected that the squad will practice out at the Westwood field. The team will be greatly strengthened as soon as Coach Pank gets his regular squad. There are many promising freshmen trying out for the varsity.

It will be sent to the freshman team for further experience as soon as "Chippie" makes his regular team.

HERE, because of the club's shorter length from that of the midiron, the player should stand closer to the ball, with his feet more together, and the weight more on the right foot than on the left.

This is commonly known as the open stance, as distinguished from the square stance, most commonly used for the woods.

Tennis and Running Keeps Stag Fit

Chicago, March 30.—James Alton Stag, 35-year-old griddle master at the University of Chicago, today is physically fit at an age when most men grow old and wither, because he believes in keeping in strict physical trim.

Every morning, eight months of the year, he plays a brisk game of tennis.

Frequently, he runs five blocks from the university gymnasium to his home at a breezy pace.

He neither drinks nor smokes. His worst vice is his excessive liking for ice cream and soda water.

TERRIERS WANT PRACTICE GAME TOMORROW

Coach George Gaw has sent out an S. O. B. call for a practice game for the Boston University baseball squad, tomorrow afternoon. The managers expect to arrange a game with either Northeastern or Tufts. It is probable that the Terriers will play Northeastern at Huntington field tomorrow for the team has two games agreed with Tufts for next week.

"Chippie" will use all the men he can, but most of variety positions are settled due to the poor material on hand. At present there is a real battle going on at only one position.

PRIZE FOR FIRST

The freshmen are staging a fight for the first base position. The boys are Bob Elliot, of Medford, and Holmes Whitmore of Arlington. They both made their letter in hockey this winter and now are out for baseball.

It will be hard to pick between the two. Whitmore is the better fielder. He is more graceful and handles ground balls easier, but Elliot seems to be a natural hitter. He stands up and takes a real cut at the ball. Considering their all-around strength, they seem to be about equal.

The rest of the infield will be composed of Capt. Glenn O'Brien at second base, Jackie Archib at short stop and Jack Gay at third base. These three boys are all veteran college players and should work very smoothly together.

Clarence Schuchman, "Mac" McCollough and Larry Kelly will probably play the outfield for the first practice game. This trio will not remain out in the garden long, however. As soon as "Oppy" Lewis is able to move around he will take his place at left field.

DOUBT LEWIS'S STANDING

"Honey" Lewis is another boy who will hold down an outfield spot if he is able to play. There is a transfer rule at Boston University which does allow transfer students to participate in sports for one year. Lewis's standing has not yet been determined yet.

HARVARD BOXING TOURNEY ON TONIGHT

BY TED LANCH

Mr. Larry Conley, Harvard boxing tutor de luxe, broke the sport lull at Cambridge with a boxing tournament which bids fair to outclass any of the other flat sports yet to be staged in the Harvard gymnasium.

Seventeen bouts in all seven classes are carded for this evening and practically every scramble brings forth every type of boxing hero known in the squared circle.

The thirty-four contestants this evening have waded through the novice trials and have fully recovered from the effects of the tactics used in these preliminary bouts.

BOXING IS POPULAR

Boxing is not regarded as a sport at Harvard. The reason is only found in those untold days of the Harvard athletic official's yearly this tournament endures any one crowd at any of the seven major sports.

The Harvard A. A. will be considerably richer tonight because of this boxing. Still, any thought of making the flat racket a major sport is shut out.

Probably the large turnout tonight will cause the athletic officials to come from behind the screen and recognize the benefits of the sport.

In the first tonight are two bouts in the 125-pound class. The first of these is made up of boys who reached the finals last year only to have the judges decide against them. George Burns will be defending division in the 125-pound class against Aaron Gordon.

In the 135-pound division, the 115-pound class, J. T. Mooney is favored over A. C. McDermott. Aaron Gordon is expected to repeat his title in the 155-pound class against E. W. Dennis.

Edna Dennis, the Gordon's E. W. Dennis, is the current favorite in the 135-pound division. It comes to a matter of technicalities. Dennis will receive plenty of attention from Boston's boxer, E. W. Dennis, from the law school.

Ed Moore's Illness Had Slattery Alarmed

Palm Beach, March 30.—Just as Manager Jack Slattery was beginning to congratulate himself on the fact that his Boston Braves have been free from injuries and illness, Old Man Jinx put in his appearance here today.

Eddie Moore was stricken all of an alarmist doctor informed the boys that Ed was suffering from appendicitis. Another doctor observed that it was just an old-fashioned tummy ache.

Manager Slattery will take no chances on his prize outfield pack and will keep him out of action for a while. Moore has played a national ball for the Braves in the Southland and Slattery wants him ready for the opening against the Giants.

Slattery will try to get even with Manager Robinson of Brooklyn this afternoon. Boston has been soundly outwitted at the Triple with great success. Joe Judge and Jim Elliott have been very effective. Ted E. Ryan, the Braves' southpaw, will lead the Boston team.

If Slattery gets off to a good start Manager Slattery plans to keep him in the box the whole game. He is the first pitcher on the staff to be picked for a nine-inning assignment.

The Braves regulars and Yankers probably will play an exhibition game for the American Legion tonight.

Easter Egg Hunt Described by Martha Lee

Martha Lee Radio Chat on Broadcast From Station WJLB.

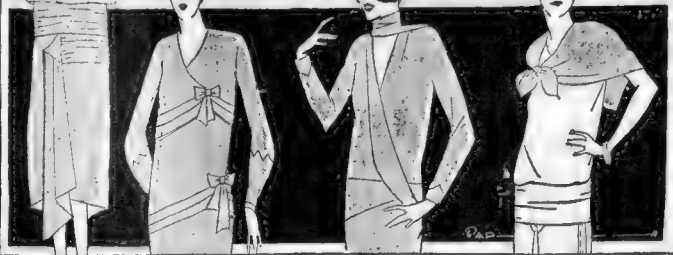

The ideal time for an Easter egg hunt is in the early morning, and the yard is the place to have it. But if the weather is hot it can be held indoors. Likewise, if Sunday morning is an inconvenient time, Saturday afternoon will do.

The party is the all-important thing. The time and place are merely incidental. Children love to hunt for anything, but when the bird's nest, treasure chests of Easter eggs with all the favors in the form of money and other things are given, the hunt is a very different thing. The prize is a very different thing. The prize is a very different thing.

OVER in a city. So is FRIENDSHIP. And both, it seems, are continually being opened to RECEIVE or repeat pleasant or UNPLEASANT things. With women, the door of their friendship is usually slightly ajar, and many walk CAREFULLY in and out. Sometimes one woman will WELCOME another with extravagant protestations as though she were some RARE and priceless gift. Yet, later, the door opens and she throws her out.

Other women HANG onto their women friends through thick and thin. For the sake, the children up and down the street, the women and their FRIENDSHIPS. They are likely to let in almost anyone who interests them—out of control. Yet when it comes to LOVE, they are very particular, and they demand that he who seeks admission, SNOOZE. And knowers usually are CHALLENGED.

With men, though, it seems the OPPOSITE is true. With many men the door of love seems to be the first kind of PERCUSSION. Yet they are really PARTICULAR about those whom they admit into life as FRIENDS. But once past the door their MOTIVES are rarely questioned. Sometimes a man's LOYALTY to his friends makes many other human emotions look pretty small and paltry.

Sometimes when a woman meets an ATTRACTIVE man she does not know where her own mind is going, and hovers about between the TWO. If the man is IN LOVE with her he will try to persuade her to let him in. If she is too long making up her mind

SCOTT'S EMULSION

BUILD YOUR LIFE ON A FIRM FOUNDATION

By J. J. MUNDY.

DON'T blame all your failures on your early training. It is easier to lay the blame at the door of your teachers, your parents or your companions, rather than take the blame yourself for your mistakes.

It is harder to look yourself squarely in the face, and see what you might have done to reach the top, in spite of drawbacks.

If you have a higher standard than your companions, you must be prepared to suffer more than they in reaching your ideal.

The pinnacle worth striving for leaves many a brilliant spot as the result of trying to reach your goal.

Apply plenty of spiritual armor, and keep climbing.

Rest frequently and take stock of your resources.

Catch your breath and get up and at it again.

Perhaps you have not gone to the bottom of things to find out what is the real cause of your failure.

It is hard to step down, but it is better to take time to strengthen your foundation than it is to try to build on a shaky base. Take courage—dig.

IGNORE TROUBLE

By LUCY LOWELL

TROUBLE is a delightful touch of humor in the story of the man who always puts on his spectacles when about to eat cherries in order that the fruit might look larger and more tempting.

Robert Boucher, who tells the story, goes on: "In like manner I always make the most of my enjoyments, and though I do not cast my eyes away from trouble, I pick them up for myself, and never let them bother me."

This last thought, it seems to me, is one that all of us may consider and adopt as a rule to assist in successful living with great advantage to ourselves and everybody around us.

Because of various reasons, all of which sound logical enough when we are suffering from it, people, the first thing most of us do with our troubles is to dodge them to some one else.

We want advice, we tell ourselves, or sympathy or moral support. And yet if we are willing to stand up to it, and get a perspective on the trouble, whatever they may be, we see quite easily that the few of them—most none at all—are so big as they seem in the beginning, and important enough to warrant another's advice, moral support, or even sympathy.

The odd thing about trouble is that it always presents itself out of all proportion to what it is actually, is like the frog in the old barrel who kept blowing himself up bigger in order to frighten someone who refused to be frightened until finally the frog burst under his own puffed-up pretensions.

So with the usual run of troubles, ignore them and they will blow up.

Mother—Jackie, what did you learn in school today?

Embarrassing Moments

Mr. Chagrin Dept.—I am a service station salesman and I love my work. The other evening a man walked in and we got quite friendly when he told me he came from Michigan, too. In the course of the conversation I casually mentioned that we did about 128 a day, and offered to show him the money. Instantly his embarrassment when he hit me over the head with a window sash and drove away with the cash register.

G. Howe Doshak.

And just look—

Dr. John Roach Stratton, New York fundamentalist leader, and Maynard Shipley, president of the Science League of America, will debate "Evolution Versus Fundamentals" at the Philadelphia Auditorium next Wednesday, according to announcements.

The debate will not be broadcast.

Radio is trying to win back its self-respect.

And Miss Mohler is assistant to Dr. Leland, the dentist.

Adam Sciff's Journal

Waded this day by the moonlight of the gramophone playing "Kiss and Make Up" behind the curtains to my baggage hath hauled to drive me daffy. And when I did give the wretch a kiss (two having fallen out on yesterday on some matter or another) the poor loon buffed me a box on the ears, do to the primrose in high dudgeon.

Famous Last Words

It isn't the wheel while you sit in the back seat and drive.

Well, of all the scurvy, shameful, dirty, dishonest and inexpressible chronic scoundrels—

(Dickinson, N. D. Press)

If the woman who attended the meeting of the Homeowners Club at my place last week and left with two quarts of my best strawberry jam in her bag will return same, no questions will be asked. Unless the jam is back on the shelf within 30 days, however, I will prosecute her to the full extent of the law for such a low down embezzler should have no mercy—Mrs. J. B. C.

While the police quartet of Los Angeles was slouching over radio a fine blue out, which stopped the broadcast.

Now, wasn't that too bad!

ASPIRIN

Most people know what to do for headaches; many declare nothing is quite so good as a Bayer Aspirin tablet. Nor does anything else seem to break a cold so quickly. But it's things like lumbago that show what Aspirin can really do! Neuralgia and neuritis. Rheumatism. When your very bones ache; that's when you're grateful for Aspirin! Get the genuine Bayer Aspirin, though, with Bayer on every tablet and on the box, with proven directions inside. All druggists.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturers of Monacalculatone of Salztrom

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

Madame Cavanaugh's...
B' Grand Writors are going to let us hear "Glamorous" from Fritz's "Fire" tonight.

Now here, at last, is a good, valid excuse for going to a show on the air. Any radio program which sings that gloriously inspired song, and since it will run along home with a comfortable feeling that she has done something worth while, and know that she will be a welcome guest when she comes again into our midst.

If they only knew it, there are lots of other thrilling programs and stars that would do much to reduce the reputation of those lousy ladies with radio licenses.

The third song from "Pact" is just such a glad, inspiring, irresistible melody.

Then there are the ever-moving and the ever-changing in "Pact" and the first scene in "Cavaliers," sung with enthusiasm; also that song and up to the top and listen to a high pitch of exaltation.

Of another character in that work of genius, the Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde," and the lovely little song, "Therese," which Wagner wrote as a study piece in preparation for the opera last season.

A NOTHER song of majestic character is the "Casta Diva" from Bellini's "Norma," a melody which has been sung by the greatest of vocalists, and the "Casta Diva" from Bellini's "Norma," a melody which has been sung by the greatest of vocalists.

Reinhold, Brains, Schubert, John, Mozart, Pergolesi, Grieg, Debussy are unknown, unappreciated, and the average radio listener.

VOICED teachers are largely to blame for the end state of our "ignorance" in which pupils leave their studies these days. Anyone who has received applicants for auditions in radio stations knows how hopeless it is to attempt to get a satisfactory performance from even the best of singers.

Charming girls troop into radio studios every day for voice trials, and that's all they think about. Their brief career as an aspirant of musical perfection ends in a few minutes of singing, and then they are gone.

What sort of songs do you sing? "Oh, angelic!" "Te Deum!" Who invented that exclamation, semi-classical? I've been wondering about it. I've been wondering about it. I've been wondering about it.

A GOOD morning rendition of an old hymn like "Gloria of Our Father" or "Sing Out Your Praises" would get more of a kick out of a radio audience than any of the present-day songs. Now instead of the present-day songs, now instead of the present-day songs.

Tooth Powder

A Lesson for Every Stick-in-a-Rut Manufacturer

Leaders of New England's knit-goods industry, organizing an association for the purpose of promoting "co-operation in production, merchandising, delivery, styles and prices," are plainly determined to capture and hold their full share of a business which in the country at large has been showing enormous gains.

These manufacturers number approximately 125. In the past, we are told, too many of them have followed the practice of shifting for themselves.

"These have been extreme individualists, making what they wished to make rather than what the public wished to buy. They have clung too long to old machinery and old styles. Output has interested them more than merchandise. In many instances the selling has been delegated to agencies, and overproduction has resulted."

The manufacturer who thinks to prosper in 1928 by joggling along in the rut dug by his father's generation ago will not travel far before he strikes the stump of adversity.

There was a striking illustration of what may happen to the business man who falls behind—and stays there—in the settlement last week of the estate of a New York woman.

The family fortune had been made in the tooth powder business. Miss Blank left 5000 shares of stock in the firm of Blank & Blank, manufacturers of a once famous dentifrice.

These shares were found to be worthless.

Why? Because of the "increasing vogue of toothpaste, which has almost supplanted the old-fashioned tooth powder."

It was discovered by the appraisers that the firm had been operated several years at a loss of approximately $80,000 a year and at the time of Miss Blank's death owed her $500,000.

The knit goods men of New England are NOT going to be caught as was the woman who owed so much tooth powder. They employ 20,000 persons. The annual value of their product is about $85,000,000.

The Research Committee of the New England Council has been working with them; stands ready, Chairman A. Lincoln Filene says, to co-operate further. An impressive fact already brought to light is that while silk constitutes almost one-third of the women's underwear market, scarcely any silk underwear for women is made in this section.

A Contrast in Faces

Calles of Mexico—Morrow of the U. S. A.

DWIGHT MORROW TALKS TO PRESIDENT CALLES

On the right, in the bigger, higher chair, because of his rank, sits Calles, powerful, fighting President of Mexico. On the left, Dwight Morrow, college classmate of President Coolidge, until lately partner in the J. Pierpont Morgan Company, now United States Ambassador to Mexico.

Here heads and faces will be studied with interest. President Calles' head and body are built for power, action, DOING THINGS. That strong neck will stand much pressure, and carry its owner through hard fights if necessary.

Morrow, on the left, carries his strength in that marvelously well developed back head, strong chin, and well developed nose. Men, great mentally, usually have noses bigger than the average.

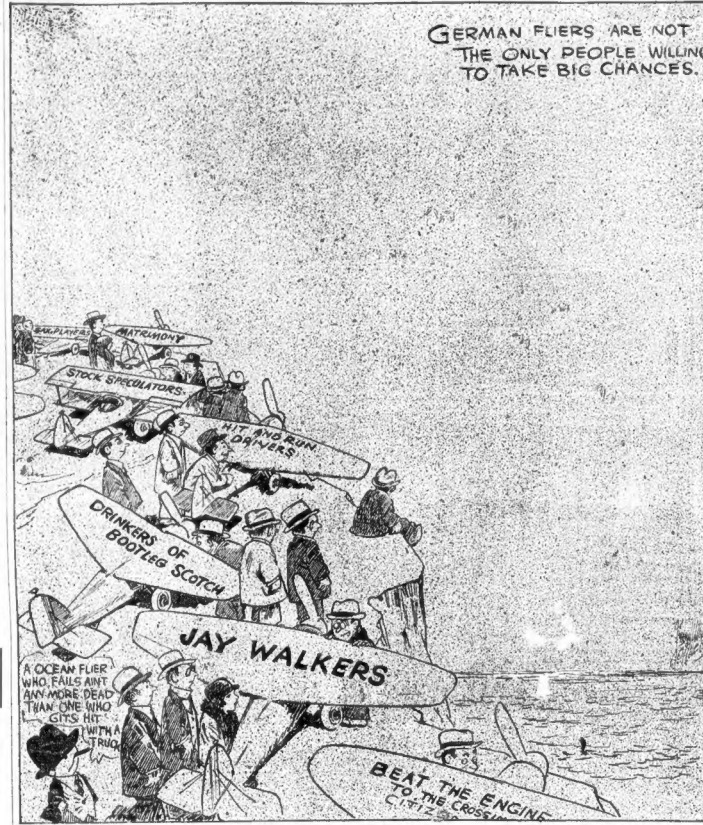

And the American business man of power usually has an extremely well developed BACK head. That is where the driving force lies. The imaginative powers are in the front brain, back of the forehead.

President Calles is built to SMASH HIS WAY THROUGH, regardless of resistance and the will of others. Dwight Morrow is built TO PERSUADE, to use adroit intelligence rather than dominating power of will.

VICE OFTEN VIRTUE IN EXCESS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

AFTER all, the main difference between virtue and vice is a question of how much and how little.

Every force in the world and every instinct says to us, "Here's law," and the wise man is the man who knows where to stop.

The motto of Socrates was, "Nothing too much." A witty Frenchman described vices as but our virtues carried to excess.

The ravages of social disorder, the foul diseases and the blasted lives caused by misdirected affection are the result of human passion carried to excess. That passion, properly restricted and controlled, gives us some of the most beautiful phases of life.

Anger is good up to a certain point, and it is a poor man who will not resent wronging; yet if carried beyond its proper bounds, and becomes vengeance, anger becomes a vice.

There are many medicines, such as strychnine, which administered in proper doses are a stimulant and a tonic, but in too great doses can produce death.

So there is hardly any emotion of which the human breast is capable that cannot become a devastating plague unless it is properly controlled.

The first duty of mankind, therefore, is to learn self-control. He should be able to say when:

Maternal affection is a beautiful and wholesome thing, but covetousness in harm when it becomes an unreasoning obsession.

We are told in a list of the virtues of the perfect man that first comes Love, but last comes Temperance.

Temperance is the supreme law of heaven. It is that final conquest that comes as the result of self-discipline.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

SOMEONE sent me this question: "You're always preaching—do you ever practice any of the stuff you preach?"

That's a sensible question. It should be asked of everyone who presumes to advise other people. To it there is only one answer, to be given with meekness and reserve.

Tolstol gave that answer, once, with brave humility to those who asked him the same question. If you have ever preached Beauty and then failed to reach it in your daily practice, Tolstol's answer will comfort you.

"People say to me," he wrote, "Well, let Nikolaevitch, as far as preaching goes, you preach, but how about your practice?" The question is a perfectly natural one; it is always put to me and it always stings my mouth. I can only reply that I do not preach—practically as I desire to do so. I might preach through my actions, but my actions are not perfect. That which I am not preaching; it is only my attempt to find out the meaning and the significance of life.

"People often say to me—why do you not fulfill the Christian precept? I am guilty and blasphemous and contemptible because I do not fulfill them, but—I am trying to fulfill it is not because I do not wish to fulfill it but because I am unable. Teach me how to extricate myself from the meshes of my passions, which I am entangled in—help me—and I will fulfill all. Command me if you choose—BUT COMMAND ME AND NOT THIS PATH WHICH I AM FOLLOWING, AND WHICH I POINT OUT TO THOSE WHO ASK ME WHERE, IN MY OPINION, THE PATH IS."

"If I knew the way home, and if I go along it drunk and staggering, from side to side, does that prove that the road is not the right one? If it is not the right one, show me another. If I stagger and wander, come to my help and support, and guide me in the right path."

You instead of pitying me when I go astray, cry triumphantly, "See, he is in the swamp with us!"

"You know that I am alone—your knowledge that I cannot walk or intend to go into the swamp—then help me!"

Tolstol cried out of his loneliness and confusion. You too have cried that when you have seemed to find Truth because he himself could not always be true.

Do not doubt your road, even if others jeer at your staggering efforts. Keep on even though you stagger, and be gentle to those who also stagger on their road. WE HAVE ALL LOST THE ROAD, BUT some day, when we are a little stronger and wiser, we will all find our way home.

NEW YORK, March 30—Thoughts while strolling: Mothers looking at young as their daughters. But do one seems able to do much for Dad Morris Amster, art director of Liberty and a Gallipoli, (O.O.) boy who made good in the city. Whatever became of Babe Marquard?

Triple-decker sandwiches. There's a human's holiday—a uniformed chauffeur riding in a taxi. These struts, shodons from Hollywood Helen Morgan's marriage, lands Oscar Hammerstein II would make good fall-back. Green leaves come to the thicket's tra in.

Boys from the country. And boys from the country club. Not so many of them Argentine dancers any more. Wonder what percentage of pedestrians stop to look at public statues. The haughty expression of a show dog. More glove-slapping, take-the-law-and-melodrama.

The Hotel Cadillac, the site of Eugene O'Neill's birth. And around the corner the scene of New York's most famous divorce. A taxi driver enters at an old woman "Lady, you gave me a ticket too tight. We ought to stop tipping them altogether. The taxi-men grow dirty."

A mounted policeman's horse follows as he walks around the corner. That English stage actor who is in demand and spends his Henry VIII's in the art gallery. Beatrice Lilla and her husband, Lord Paul. A window of a shop in the season's new gowns.

The Fifth Avenue hotel bar where grow rich old royalties of a shaming folk. Plappers with pink crystal bouquets. The numbing woman who carries a lighted red lantern and picks up pins and straws. A wait-on-yourself hat store. Judith Anderson, one of the season's theatrical beauties. Those pugilists' cry-out, "Round!"

Waffles, waffles. Three little girls in green hats all full of eggs. THREE now occupying fine old houses in the East. Titles—abandoned mansions of millionaires. The soft and fluffy in minimalist style and the clientele is restricted to those who can give and financial references. The meals are home cooked and served in the elegant corner manner of households in the neighborhoods. Lodgers are expected to come to the evening meal in dinner clothes and afterward their couples range from $150 to $300 a week.

THE return of the boarding houses would indicate a revival of much romantic stuff New York lost in their passing. There were boarding houses of the old and fine and the house types as there are Broadway, Bronx and Harlem types. O. Henry found plenty material for a fertile pen among them.

BUTCHERS report a shortage of meat. The butcher is able to furnish it to customers only at stated intervals. The case is a simple one. It forms a large part of their diet. And—perhaps the sudden pallor—some eat it raw.

THE raw carrot diet, too, holds up. It is reported to give Miss Lindbergh, the actress, the soft and fluffy of a flower petal. The lovely Lillian Russell, who is said to be one of the most enthusiastic adherents. And if it did for La Gish, no wonder it remains popular.

THERE is a school, too, of Indian turnip eaters. If you can eat one of them without rubbing out and pulling a fire alarm box you may try it. It is a simple one. Copyright 1928 by the McNaught Press, Inc.

The Postoffice Is Right

Our Marines Are Right

Well meaning gentlemen who may or may not know what they are talking about, probably NOT, printed stamps to be put on envelopes, after the fashion of Red Cross stamps, denouncing "the rule of the United States Marines in Nicaragua."

The Postoffice forbids sending letters with those stamps affixed to go through the mails, and the Postoffice is right.

One branch of the Government could hardly tolerate being used as a vehicle for libelling another branch of the Government.

The United States Postoffice deserves praise for refusing to be made a vehicle for libelling the United States Navy.

Nicaragua is not ruled by United States Marines. They are in Nicaragua to protect our treaty rights, which include the right to build a Nicaraguan canal, important to the whole world, and far more important than the whole of Nicaragua can ever be.

No Agreements

Uncle Sam Should Do His Own Deciding

Dr. Butler, head of Columbia College, says navies could be held down by agreeing to blockade "any aggressor nation." That arrangement might lead to war. We would help blockade one nation. Other nations would help the blockade nation. Then we would have another World War, AND the bill to pay, probably.

The United States should enter into no combinations, or agreements, consent to nothing to prevent freedom of action. Uncle Sam should command the world's respect with flying machines, submarines, fast cruisers, and a mercantile fleet bigger and better than any other. There is no substitute for preparation.
